Growing together

Mathematics Collaborative Network

Wednesday 5th July 2017 – 13pm – 16.15pm

We are delighted to share details of a new collaboration with Pearson and bring to your attention details of a FREE Mathematics Collaborative Network working group.

The 'Mathematics Collaborative Network' provides recognition to schools and colleges that have been innovative in their teaching practices of mathematics, and this has delivered benefits to their students. Whitburn Church of England Academy will act as a hub centre for all other Edexcel and non-Edexcel centers' within the region. Our role will be to facilitate regular network meetings which aim to meet local needs and address issues related to the teaching of mathematics.

The purpose of this collaboration is to:

- Develop subject intelligence – key speakers providing further insight into government led changes
- Share expertise – Schools will spread best practice of methodologies & experiences.
- Encourage on-going Innovation – Teaching professionals will debate initiatives to create improved learning strategies & evaluate existing ones.
- Encourage student Progression – Increase of knowledge and ability leading to better confidence.

Pearson currently has over 40 networks across the country and this new hub centre will expand the provision in North East.

Please see below details of our launch meeting together with an agenda.
