Putting People First

Developing Hope, Confidence, Happiness, Relationships & Employability Skills
Run by young people for young people

Friday 10th November 2017 – Whitburn Church of England Academy

Following several requests we are delighted to announce our collaboration with Humanutopia. Humanutopia was formed in 2004 by Graham & Carlo, both of whom have gone on to become the inspirational leaders of an incredible team of 20 people!

Humanutopia was created from a desire to help young people make positive changes and to improve their life chances. By focusing on the 5 main outcomes of our work we help them create a strong foundation by improving 5 Levels of Hope, Confidence, Happiness, relationships before finally enhancing their employability skills and life chances.

Their most popular course, the 'Who am I?' is a highly motivated day for any year group, designed to enable young people to discover their authentic self.

It is a dynamic and high impact day that creates a safe space for young people to stop and reflect on their life to date. The course looks at how the choices students make can affect their futures. It will inspire and motivate them to take the right path, starting with changes they can make right now.

The first part of the day looks at peer pressure conformity and bullying, before focusing on choices, teamwork and aspirations many young people leave feeling uplifted with a clear idea of the changes they need to make and how to go about making them.

Humanutopia courses are made of a mix of comments which ensure highly dynamic and interactive experiences. This includes slides images, videos music, group activities, public speaking, interaction, reflection expression and active mentoring.
