EYFS: The Three Rs - Reading, Writing and Maths in Reception

Wednesday 28th November 2018

The Ramside Hall Hotel, Durham – DH1 1TS

After many requests Prince Bishops Teaching School Alliance are again working with Kathy Bigio Kathy has over 25 years EYFS experience and was a Senior Teacher Advisor for Early Years at Lancashire County Council. Kathy was also employed in an advisory capacity in Lancashire County Council and Blackburn with Darwen Local Authority.

This brand new course responds to a real need in EYFS to clarify good practice in the light of 'Bold Beginnings' – the 2017 Ofsted report into early years. The three R's have long been recognised as playing a crucial role in the Early Years curriculum and require dedicated teaching time in light of what actually works most effectively for young children.

Attendees: Head Teachers, EYFS leads and EYFS teachers

The course will help managers & leaders understand what effective practice should look like in EYFS. It will also support teachers and support staff in understanding their role in teaching and learning reading, writing and maths.

The course will look in detail at:

- How the recommendations of Bold Beginnings fit alongside other Ofsted / DfE documentation & can be incorporated into developmentally appropriate practice in the reception class.
- How, when and where the teaching of reading, writing and maths can be covered in the daily practice of the reception class.
- The promotion of reading, writing and maths through effective child initiated learning with ideas for high quality provision.
- The promotion of reading, writing & maths through adult directed learning.
- The need for informed staff expertise in promoting the three R's.
- Simple, manageable planning for the three R's

Testimonials - EYFS: The Three R's

I now understand best how to organise a day to include daily maths and literacy.

Lots of good ways to promote reading, writing & maths without being too formal.

Independent writing ideas.

Learnt the importance of promoting communication & language.

Linking expectations in nursery & reception was really useful.

Focused on the importance of C&L alongside prime areas of L&D.

Understanding of effective deployment of staff during literacy & maths times.

Use ideas throughout EYFS to improve outcomes for the children.

Independent application of taught skills .

Including challenges in child initiated provision.

Including maths ideas in continuous provision.

Use of photographs in independent writing books will benefit my work.

So many ideas! Noughts & crosses – why didn't I think of that!

Application of ideas for SEN higher up the school.

Interesting and informative! Thank you!
