23rd September 2019 – full day

Prince Bishops Teaching School Alliance are thrilled to be working with the coveted, leading UK Literacy Expert Nicolas Roberts to offer a specialised 1 day course on Raising Standards in English Teaching and Learning, delivered in the Autumn term. Participants will be given the rare opportunity to observe Nicolas teaching a class for the day. This course is suitable for class teachers, middle leaders, subject leaders and senior leaders in primary settings.

With Nicolas, participants will explore and understand the key principles and teaching methods of:

- * in-depth reading - extracting, inferring and deducing information from text
- * visual imagination - using pictures to stimulate, develop and organise writing
- * drama - using role play to develop ideas and clarify concepts
- * meaningful grammar - making grammar relevant and useful
- * wider curriculum - using the curriculum as the context for reading, grammar and writing

'Raising Standards in English Teaching and Learning' promises to be an exciting professional development course where participants will observe Nicolas teaching a class in real time before unpicking the lesson together in a focused workshop environment.
